Our Story & History

Founded in 2005, Chiltern Global was established as a specialist manufacturing and supply partner, supporting large-scale procurement programmes across Asia and Europe. For over 20 years, the group has built deep expertise in manufacturing management, quality control, compliance, and international supply chains, delivering high-volume, specification-driven products to government, security, and institutional clients worldwide.

This long-standing manufacturing heritage forms the backbone of our capabilities today. Through decades of hands-on experience working directly with audited factories and certified production partners, Chiltern Global has developed a reputation for reliability, consistency, and uncompromising quality, even in the most demanding procurement environments.

Recognising the increasing complexity and specialisation of modern defence procurement, the group has now consolidated its defence-focused operations under a dedicated brand and identity: Chiltern Defence.

Chiltern Defence represents the evolution of this experience into a purpose-built defence procurement partner. Operating exclusively within the military, defence, and government contracting space, Chiltern Defence acts as both a prime contractor and strategic manufacturing partner, supporting programmes ranging from personal protective equipment and ballistic solutions to tactical equipment and mission-critical gear.

By combining 20+ years of manufacturing heritage with a focused defence procurement model, Chiltern Defence delivers mission-ready, compliant, and scalable solutions backed by global production capacity, robust quality assurance, and an in-depth understanding of international tendering and government requirements.
